ALLEGED PEDDLERS OF LIQUOR ARRESTED WANTED IN OHIO

Two Men Taken As They Were Preparing to Leave Maysville In Auto Yesterday are Returned to Brown County, Ohio.

At the request of the authorities at Georgetown, Ohio, local police Tuesday afternoon arrested Thomas Tyler and Samuel Kearns, of Brown county and held them for the Brown county officers. Deputy Sheriff John E. Neu and Marshal Charles A. Lucas, arrived here last night with warrants charging both men with selling liquor in violation of the Crabb act. Both men waived extradition papers and were returned by the Ohio officers to Georgetown this morning.

The officers at Georgetown called Chief Ort by telephone informing him that the men, who had evaded the officers at Georgetown, were headed toward Maysville in an automobile. The license number of the automobile was given to the police and they soon located the machine parked in Market street near Third. The machine was watched and presently two men came to it. One man was cranking the machine to leave when the officers approached the machine and placed them both under arrest. Two large suit cases were found in the machine but no liquor was discovered. Both men were taken to the Mason county jail and held until the Ohio officers arrived last night and they agreed to return to Georgetown without a state warrant. They left for the Brown county capital by automobile early this morning and the prisoners will be given an immediate hearing there.

FLOATER FOUND MAY PROVE TO BE MISSING MAYSVILLIAN

Body Found Near Higginsport Is Yet Unidentified and May Prove To Be That of Mr. John Sparks.

On last Sunday a body was found in the Ohio River at Higginsport, Ohio. The body appears to have been in the river for some time and was removed to the undertaking establishment of Len Brothers at Augusta where it is now being held pending identification.

In the clothing was found a spectacle case bearing the imprint of J. E. Robinson, Augusta jeweler. No person from Augusta or community is said to be missing and authorities are of the opinion that the body may prove to be that of Mr. John Sparks, former field manager of the Sunlight Creamery Company, located in Maysville, who so mysteriously disappeared from his boarding house here more than two months ago.

A body recently found in the Ohio River at Cincinnati answered the description of the missing man and relatives viewed it in hopes they could identify it but it was later identified as a Cincinnati man.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS MAKE MORE PLANS FOR BIG DAY

Workers Will Canvass the Homes of the City On Next Sunday Boosting Sunday School Day.

A most enthusiastic company of Sunday school workers from all the city schools were at the Third Street M. E. church last evening making ready for the advertising campaign. Next Sunday the campaign will go on in real earnest. Every home will be visited during the afternoon, and it will be a hard-hearted home that can refuse the invitations extended to come to Sunday school May first. For one time lets make it unanimous. Let everyone go to some Sunday school or church that day. It will do you good to be a part of this big movement for the improvement of our city and country spiritually.

Next Sunday, the last before Go-To-Sunday-School-Day, has been designated "Neighbor's Day." Whoever has been overlooked on "Family Day" and "Friends" day, should be included in your invitation for "Neighbor's Day." Your neighbor according to the Word is anyone to whom you can render a service. And surely it will be a service to get your neighbors to attending Sunday school and church. Come on neighbors, all of you, and get in line with our "Families" and "Friends" and make the day a big success.

Mr. H. C. Curran, chairman of the Maysville district of the County Sunday school Association, after a conference with the superintendent, has announced the following goals for attendance and offerings for Go-To-Sunday-School-Day for the city district:

Christian, 600 attendance, offering $50; First Presbyterian 500 attendance, offering $50; First Baptist, 500; Third Street M. E. 500; $35; First M. E. South 250; $25; Second M. E. 500; $15; Little Brick M. E. South 350; $15; Hilldale, 375; $15; City Mission 200.

With the enthusiasm being manifested at present, and with the great preparations being made it would appear that these goals will be easily reached.

Perrant Brothers' Jersey cow, Perrant's Pink Peach, a six-year-old Jersey in the third month of her lactation produced two pounds of butter fat daily, and thus stood ninth out of the thirty-eight cows.

NATIONAL AND STATE SCHOOL HEADS AT EDUCATIONAL MEET

Colvin Pleads For Backing to School Bill and U. S. Commissioner Speaks On School Finances.

"Public education is the biggest task confronting America today," Philander P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, declared last night in addressing the opening session of the Kentucky Educational Association at the First Christian church in Louisville.

George Colvin, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, spoke in behalf of the amendment to the State Constitution intended to take public schools entirely out of politics.

More than 2,000 teachers had arrived in Louisville last night and the trunks into the city were loaded yesterday, with indications that the inflow would continue through Thursday. More than 10,000 persons are expected to attend during the four days of the meeting.

Mr. Claxton's speech was a review of the financial situation of the school throughout the country, and an analysis of the factors which contribute to make the school "the most important single factor in American life today." "Three things make a nation prosperous, and only one of them is changeable," he said. "Natural resources and nativahility are comparatively fixed. Education, which directs the other two, is changeable, and it is the only factor that can advance the industrial and economic welfare of the United States."

"Society is responsible for the education of its members. It is not a matter of individual choice. Every person must bear the burden of all, and all of every person. Parents must pay that their children may be better fitted for life. Those who are not parents must pay in order that they may live in an intelligent community."

"Education," Mr. Claxton said, "is Democracy's task. It is the means through which we obtain the fullest life of the community. It is the gateway to read democracy, for only education can provide an equal opportunity to all for full self-development. It is the best means of creating good citizens. It is the best means of insuring industrial efficiency."

If there was put one potato in the world a careful cultivator might produce as many as 10,000,000 from it in ten years.

MAYSVILLE KEEPS PROHIBITION LAW WELL

Federal Prohibition Inspector Gives Local Drug Stores and Physicians A Clean Bill.

Chief Federal Prohibition Inspector J. Sherman Porter, of Lexington, was in Maysville today looking over the records of local physicians and druggists. He said Maysville was one of the best towns in the state in the matter of obedience to the prohibition law, as he found no violations on the part of either druggists or physicians. He said that only one drug store here handles whisky at all and that few physicians in Maysville prescribe it in their practice.

Inspector Porter said that Director Paul M. Williams had been revoking the permits of physicians and druggists who have violated the law, but that their number was comparatively small and that the large majority of physicians and druggists in Kentucky were co-operating with the department in carrying out the provisions of the law.

Inspector Porter went to Brooksville this afternoon and from there will return to Lexington.

SUIT ASKS SALE OF MAYSLEICK PROPERTY.

Mrs. G. M. Darnall brought suit in the Mason Circuit Court this afternoon against Leonard Clary and others asking a sale of the Clary property in Mayslick and that she be paid certain sums paid for taxes and improvements to the property which she had advanced.

GAME SUNDAY.

SALVATION ARMY TO ORGANIZE ADVISORY BODY IN THIS CITY

Mason County Advisory Board to the Salvation Army to Be Organized at Meeting to Be Held On Thursday Morning Here.

Mr. W. J. Henry, agent of the Salvation Army, has been in Maysville for the past two days in conference with local business and professional men and women looking to the organization here of a Maysville Advisory Board to the Salvation Army to look after matters that might come up in Maysville and Mason county in which the Salvation Army might be of great service.

Mr. Henry has called a meeting of those to whom he has talked for 8:30 o'clock Thursday morning at the Third Street M. E. church at which time the matter will be gone into thoroughly and an effort will be made to complete the organization of the local board of fifteen or twenty men with district representatives outside this board representing practically every section of Mason county.

A community advisory board of the Salvation Army is simply a comprehensive committee of responsible citizens in every community which represents the Army and the Public in the practical solution of the more aggravated welfare problems seldom understood by the mind untrained in the scientific treatment of such cases, and which provides the community's share of Salvation Army Maintenance.

The committee as organized for Maysville and Mason county tomorrow will be composed of the most substantial citizens of the city and county.

NAMED ADMINISTRATOR.

FARMERS, DIVERSIFY YOUR CROPS.

For all who wish to understand economies there is a lesson in the plight of the Kentucky tobacco farmers, many of whom find themselves facing ruin as the result of depending on one crop—tobacco.

Lured by high prices at which the 1919 tobacco was sold, additional acreage was leased or bought on credit by many and planted to this staple. The present situation might be less depressing if planters had been content to grow tobacco only on acreage formerly devoted to other crops, but in some instances blue grass pastures which had always been in sod were ploughed and seeded to tobacco. A falling market brought an appeal last autumn to the growers of Kentucky and portions of Tennessee to hold the crop in the hope of forcing higher returns. The man with debts to pay and nothing except his tobacco available had only one course open to him. That was to sell the tobacco regardless of the threats that reprisals would follow such action.

With his barns empty and an account of stock taken, however, the grower who had paid extravagant, speculative prices for land found himself confronted with an impossible condition. When tobacco was bringing from 35 to 40 cents a pound the temptation to pay from $500 to $1,000 an acre for land upon which to grow more of it was strong. The latter figures was refused by David Look of Greenwich, Connecticut, for his 1,000 acre Castleton estate near Lexington, which is one of the few great horse breeding properties now held intact in that region.

Growers of tobacco have learned, too late for some of them, that every staple is subject to wide fluctuation in price, and that an acre of land has its limits of productivity. Dispatches from Lexington, in the heart of the white burley tobacco district, tell of distress in that part of the state and of large numbers of real estate mortgages foreclosed.

Burley tobacco is grown only in certain districts in Kentucky. It was in these favored districts that gambling in land reached its height. Prices of plough land all over the United States, with the exception of California, Oregon and Colorado, have shrunk during the past year, the greatest fall having been in Kentucky, with an average price of $53 an acre this year against $70 last year. The highest priced plough lands reported by the United States Department of Agriculture are in Iowa and Illinois, the former average price $210 for 1921, as against $219 for 1920.

The top figures are recorded in state long famous for stock production. Much of the corn grown in Iowa and Illinois finds its way back to the land through fertilization. Tobacco is a crop notoriously hard on land. Kentucky, still is a big breeder of fine horses and one of the largest producers of fine cattle, sheep and hogs, may find that her road to happiness lies through the safer channel of diversified farming.—New York Herald.

BACK TO LEAVENWORTH.

The United States Supreme Court having refused to review their case, "Big Bill" Haywood and seventy-nine other Industrial Workers of the World, convicted at Chicago of attempting to obstruct the Government's prosecution of the war, will have to go back to jail and serve out their sentences. They were reposing safely in Leavenworth penitentiary when they were released on bail pending the decision on their appeal. Now they will return to their respective cells, and probably for the first time in many years they will be worthy of their title as "industrial workers."

The American people have not forgotten the trouble Haywood and his cohorts made at that critical period when the army was organizing and this Government was striving to mobilize its resources for the defeat of Germany. These so-called "Industrial Workers of the World" were guilty of many offenses. They obstructed the draft and violated the espionage act. They interfered with the Government's activities and in numerous instances were known to be guilty of acts of sabotage. In all, ninety-seven of them were convicted, some of whom have now served their sentences, but there are eighty who are headed back to Leavenworth, where Judge Landis sentenced them.

These men are some of the "political prisoners" for whose pardon President Harding is being importuned. To release Haywood and his gang would constitute an affront to every one of the 24,000,000 men of this country who came forward and registered under the selective draft law, and it would be an insult to the 4,000,000 who took up arms to fight the Nation's battles. Men of this sort who hold no respect for law and order, who have no pride in the American Government or our institutions, but who delight in fomenting trouble and discontent, are better off behind the bars than at large. In their ideas and their actions they give no excuse for receiving clemency.—Washington Post.

CAMP KNOX IS MADE CITIZENS'
TRAINING CAMP.

Army Corps Announces Selection of Kentucky Camp for Citizens
Military Training.

Headquarters of the Fifth Corps Area, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, has officially announced Camp Knox, Kentucky, as the choice for the Citizens' Military Training Camps to be held this summer. It is the opinion of the army officers at the Headquarters, Fifth Corps Area, that no more satisfactory choice could be made than Camp Knox. Prospective applicants to the camp are even more enthusiastic than are the army officers in charge and the indications are that a much greater number will desire to attend than can possibly be accepted for this first camp.

The Citizens Military Training Camps Association will have general charge of handling applications and the enrollment of applicants will be effected through their local branches.

It was learned at General Read's headquarters that the exact date for the camp had been definitely fixed for the period July 21st to August 20th.

The expenses of 1500 men from the states of Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia will be paid by the Government. In addition to these applicants whose expenses will be paid by the Government, a large number are indicating their intention to apply for permission to attend with the privilege of hearing their individual expense at the Camp.

These camps are solving the problem of a summer vacation and affording an opportunity for combining profitable physical training with a pleasant outing.

Camp Knox, with a reservation of approximately 32,000 acres, will permit the employment of all classes of light and heavy field artillery and the instruction of troops in all the phases of a modern battle. This wonderful military reservation, embracing alternate hills and valleys, mountains and plains, woodland and open country, is perhaps the most ideal training ground in the world.

New York Letter

by
Lucy Jeanne Price

New York. — Salvatore Concialdi, equally proud of his profession and his citizenship, has had large porcelain letters placed upon the window of his barber shop, in Amsterdam avenue, reading, "Salvatore Concialdi, American Citizen, Tonsorialist."

WHAT has become of the hand organs? They have left New York City, that's certain. Long before this time in April, other years have marked the coming of spring by the grinding of their tunes. This year, it's only two or three times a week that the strains of one reaches you. Both the little boxy ones that strapped over the shoulder and usually bore a monkey for company and the "improved" street pianos have vanished. Hosts of people will give a sigh of thanksgiving for the disappearance, but personally I miss them grievously, and between us, so do most of those who speak with so much scorn.

Stanley with the longest and hardest-last name I have yet met spent the other night in a telephone booth, sleeping very comfortably, however. He regretted being waked up earlier than necessary by a passing policeman who took him to the station, and in the unfortunate way of a policeman, notified his family. Stanley had been taken to see his cousin and at the same time given ten cents which he was to donate for the Heathens at church services. Not caring much for cousins, he decided to use the dime to go looking for the Heathens. It seemed a good arrangement to him, and he insisted that he liked the telephone booth for a sleeping place when his dime gave out. The policeman, lacking Stanley's logical mind, still didn't understand his motives. "Why do you run away," he asked, after learning that this was not an unprecedented event in the boy's eleven years of life. "Because my mother whips me," he explained. "Why does she whip you?" the officer queried further. "Because I run away," was the reply. There seemed no further line along which to query more.

Indication of the demand for American manufactured products and raw materials from foreign countries is contained in cable advices received in New York within the last few days from foreign agents of American export corporations, specifying the goods wanted and the terms of payment. A report made the other day by one of the largest of these corporations says these inquiries have in instances resulted in orders, owing to the fact that prospective purchasers were in position to deal on cash or short-term credit basis. Many other inquiries have come to naught because of demand for long-term credits. The exchange situation makes the matter of credits a primo one in any discussion of export trade and methods of pushing it. Longtime credits and the exchange question in its various angles will be one of the important subjects of consideration taken up at the National Foreign Trade Council convention in Cleveland this May.

We don't have very much permanence of occupation in a family or a locality in this country—least of all, perhaps, in Greater New York. And a little book shop in Ann street seems decked in a certain romance of tradition because for over one hundred years, the room has been a bookshop. The owners of the building have died and the property has passed from their families. The bookshop keepers have sold to others. But ALWAYS, it has been a bookshop. I don't believe there is another building in New York, except a church or two, that has that record.

Ned Wayburn has established himself as an independent producer. He is going to stick pretty closely to staging musical plays, and for an opening effort will present next fall a play with music entitled "Flying Island," the hook of which is by Fred Jackson and Mr. Wayburn, the lyrics by Clifford Grey, score by George Gershwin, and the settings and costumes by Willy Pogany.

Food prices are dropping even on Broadway. We never believed it would happen. Market quotations meant nothing to the restaurants, everyone assumed. And it was actually a shock the other day to drop into one of the popular eating places around Times Square and discover now prices on the menu. I tried two other places of the same sort the next two days, and found the same thing true. Twenty-five per cent. reductions right there in the mirrored-elaborated-one-time-corking-popping restaurants of Broadway.

THREE YEAR TRIAL OF THE SALES TAX TO BE RECOMMENDED

Tax Conference Agree On A Plan for Temporary Legislation In the Present Emergency.

New York. — Temporary legislation for a three-year period, on a basis of a tax of one per cent, on sales or turnover on all goods, wares and commodities agreed upon at an important tax conference just concluded in this city, according to an announcement made by Hazen J. Burton, of Minneapolis, president of the Tax League of America, which has united many business organizations in support of the gross sales tax legislation to come before Congress at the special session.

"It was the feeling of all those who attended the conference," said Vice-President Henry G. Odyke, "that in the present financial emergency, due to the depressed business conditions, we should pay heed first of all to the immediate demands of the treasury. Temporary measures of some kind are therefore necessary, and while the advocates of the sales tax feel that ultimate relief can best be obtained only through the enactment of permanent legislation, still the question of a temporary tax policy should not, just at this time, stand in the way of any temporary financial need."

"Among business men generally, as well as among our national legislators, it is now conceded that something must be done at once toward the repeal of the excess profits tax, and also toward a reduction in the higher brackets of the income tax, so that the public may be protected from the high prices that go with these excess profit taxes, and also so that capital will no longer seek the umbrella of tax exemption securities, when it is needed in active industry. To provide the funds now made necessary, through the failure of the present tax system, is clearly the first duty of Congress, and with a view to aiding in this legislation the Tax League of America called the conference just held by the leading advocates of the sales tax in the country."

"It was the opinion of the conference that in view of the present unsettled conditions of business, and also on account of the problems of budget yet unsolved by the government, and which may not be agreed upon for a period of years, that the conference could be go on record as favoring first, the repeal of the excess profits tax, an dth reduction of the surtaxes in the higher brackets; second, temporary legislation to cover the present emergency need of funds; and third, the enactment of a sales tax for a period of three years similar to the sales already in successful operation in the Philippine Islands, in France, and to some extent, in Canada."

"Such a program will, of course, provide funds necessary for immediate relief, without committing Congress to any permanent financial policy, and at the same time will afford plenty of opportunity for a first hand study of this much needed reform in our revenue laws. The executive committee of the Tax League has accordingly instructed its counsel to complete its bill along the lines already mentioned for immediate introduction before Congress."

Reports of activity in many cities, according to Judge Lebbens R. Willey who presided, showed a rapidly crystallizing sentiment in favor of the enactment of a sales tax plan based upon the results already obtained under the several years of sales tax experience in the Philippine Islands.

Among those associated with the Tax League of America in the proposed legislation are George M. Reynolds, Chairman of the Board, Continental and Commercial National Bank, and James A. Patton, of Chicago; William McConway, of The McConway Torley Company, Pittsburgh; George W. Bancroft, treasurer Cameron Farm Company, Orange, Texas; George E. Brightson, president Sonora Phonograph Company, New York; Charles A. Hirsch, president Fifth-Third National Bank, Cincinnati; E. B. Knight, president New Albany Veneering Company, New Albany, Ind.; G. Searing Wiltsch, Philadelphia, and H. K. Wood, President, Wood Shovel & Tool Company, Piqua, Ohio.

SOLD GASOLINE FOR COAL OIL, CAUSING DEATH, SAYS SUIT.

Covington, Ky., April 20. — Charging that a quantity of what was supposed to be coal oil, contained gasoline, and that when it was used in lighting a stove there was an explosion which caused the death of Lottie Neiberger at her home in Elsmere, Ky., last December, Herbert Neiberger as administrator of her estate, Monday filed suit in Circuit court against the Kentucky Independent Oil Company and J. J. Breiner for $25,000 damages. The petition alleges that Breiner purchased the oil from the oil company and later sold a quantity of it to Lottie Neiberger as coal oil.

THANKFUL HE WAS NOT A WOMAN.

The late Lawson Tait, of England, the greatest woman doctor, said he never went to bed at night without thanking heaven he was not born a woman. No doctor ever knew better than he what women have to suffer at some times of their lives. It was an American woman, long since passed to her reward, who introduced a combination of roots and herbs called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that has proved wonderfully successful in mitigating suffering and relieving diseases of women. It has brought relief to thousands of women who suffered from female ills.

MILLIONS WASTED BY RAILROADS UNDER BAD MANAGERS

Managerial Inefficiency Is Charged by Members of the Unions in Statement Filed Today.

Chicago, April 20.—Wastes amounting to $1,000,000,000 annually were laid to managerial inefficiency on American railroads in a detailed exhibit placed before the Railroad Labor Board today as part of union labor's fight against a reduction of wages.

Recoverable wastes were estimated by the employees at $578,500,000 a year and other wastes, impossible of estimation, would equal that amount, it was declared.

The employees contend that if those deficiencies and defaults in management were redressed and repaired, there would remain no reason for reduction in wages. As a method of correcting wasteful methods and increasing the efficiency of employees, the exhibit advocated co-operative effort between management and workers.

Recoverable and easily estimated wastes were divided by the exhibit under nine heads. The wastes which the unions said could not be estimated in terms of money included a variety of subjects ranging from defective train equipment and tracks through allegations of incompetent and extravagant management.

Griffey came to Lawrenceburg, rendered and was lodged in jail. He refused to discuss the shooting.

Griffey and his wife recently separated.

LIQUOR HANDS FIRED AT BY POLICE.

Nine shots were fired at a gang of whisky thieves early Wednesday by Thomas McManus and Fred Knips, patrolmen, who discovered the men robbing the Federal Distributing Co. liquor dealers, 219 East Third street, Cincinnati.

700 CONVICTS IN OHIO PRISON ARE STRICKEN.

Columbus, Ohio, April 20.—About 700 prisoners at the penitentiary are suffering, today, from poison, believed to be due to eating wild parsnips. Fifty of the sick convicts are in the prison hospital. Some of them were seized with convulsions. All are expected to recover. Warden Thomas has notified officials of the Board of Administration, who had obtained the parsnips from cold storage here. The board immediately took steps in the hope of preventing a similar outbreak of illness at other state institutions where some of the parsnips may have been sent.

ENDORSED AT HOME.

Sach Proof as This Should Convince Any Maysville Citizen.

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow-citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Maysville adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

D. S. Stout, 22 East Second street, Maysville, says: "Just after my recovery from pneumonia, my kidneys began to give me trouble. My back had a steady dull ache and it hurt me to breathe. My eyes would get puffy underneath. I knew my kidneys were in bad shape and something would have to be done to check the disorder so I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. It didn't take long to rid me of my trouble. I take pleasure in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills."
